

"Working at ASE not only prepared me well for my future career, but also informed its trajectory.

Being hired as a Program Assistant and exposed to Russian culture inspired me to study Russian language in college. Later joining the leadership team as Program Director, I learned how to work successfully in a fast-paced environment.

Currently as a consultant for the Federal Gov't, I routinely call upon the skills I developed during my years at ASE."

"The ASE/JCSSI internship was a wonderful opportunity to experience Athletic Training in performing arts and immersion in the administrative aspect of the profession as well as the clinical.

It is an all-encompassing and valuable opportunity which prepared me to work as an independent AT and also helped me to grow as a more well-rounded person."

- Graduate of University of Michigan

"My 6 years working at ASE/JCSSI were invaluable. As an interpreter and later as a Director, I learned and developed skills that helped me directly as a law school student. The people that I met working at ASE became some of my closest friends.

I learned countless real-world lessons and skills that also helped me grow as a person and a professional; time-management, juggling diverse responsibilities, and interpersonal skills.

Accepting the offer to work at ASE/JCSSI was the best professional decision I have ever made."

Benefits

- Competitive wages
- Room and Board
- Professional reference from an internationally respected non-profit/NGO
- Opportunities for year-round employment consideration
- Friendships with peers of similar interests in Performing Arts, Int'l Relations, and Eurasia Culture and language studies

"Working at ASE was the perfect intersection of my interests in dance and Russian. I was quickly encouraged to take on more responsibility and was promoted to Program Director.

The skills developed in that role continued to help me both professionally and academically.

I learned so much about being successful in a supervisory position.

I am currently working towards a Master's in Russian and Eastern European Studies at the University of Oxford and I know that my time at A.S.E helped me immensely to prepare for it all."

-Graduate of Columbia University

"ASE has been the foundation of all my achievements and aspirations as a dancer, student, and future health care professional. Progressing across various employment roles--from a Program Assistant to Sr. Staff--allowed me to learn from ASE's senior staff and also provided me with opportunities to lead.

ASE/JCSSI is a space for personal growth and innovation. The expertise and care of its team is a resource that carries on beyond the summer programs. You will not regret the learning experiences!"
